Beto Marúbo, representative of the Union of Indigenous Peoples of the Javari Valley
(UNIVAJA), Brazil

Pamela Kraft, Executive Director, Tribal Link Foundation

Featuring a screening of the yet to be released documentary Tribes on the Edge, directed and produced by filmmaker Céline Cousteau, about the indigenous peoples of the Javari Valley in the Brazilian Amazon, home to the largest concentration of peoples living in voluntary isolation.

Followed by a presentation by Beto Marúbo, an indigenous leader from the Marúbo tribe, who will give a first-hand account of the reality on the ground and his work protecting the uncontacted peoples. As part of the film's impact campaign, Tribal Link Foundation will share the importance of supporting indigenous peoples with training to effectively participate in UN fora.
