Q1 Name of the organization:

Reproductive Advocate Health Education-Ghana

Q2 The purpose of the organization:

MISSION

- To actively work with communities to identify community context challenges and adopt cost effective ways of addressing them
 - To Improve the capacity of target communities and schools to understand and demand responsive health services from governmental stakeholders
 - To achieve social and economic development and improved quality of life for rural households and communities with emphasis on women and children, youth, the elderly, the disabled persons, orphans and other special groups
 - To promote and provide access to quality basic education for children and school dropouts within deprived rural communities
 - To increase access to safe and clean drinking water and sanitation so as to ultimately reduce water related and fecal-based diseases
 - To improve the health conditions of communities through elimination of health hazards in the environment that lead to untimely death among adults and children

Q3 Information as to the programmes and activities of the organization in areas relevant to the human rights of older persons:

Seek to mobilise new members for the coalition

- Coordinate with the Ministry of Gender, Children and Social Protection to collectively participate in the forthcoming Open Ended Session in April 2020 in New York. We look forward to send at least 3 members of the Steering Committee to participate and truly appreciate the dynamics of the UN Open Ended Session and how we can leverage on that to achieve our stated objectives.
- We want to integrate rights of older persons on human rights issues that will emerge in electioneering campaigns and news analysis program
- We will therefore work to ensure that issues pertaining to older person's rights are factored in national debate and public discourse on development. We will therefore engage the Institute for Economic Affairs, Centre for Democratic Development, and Institute for Democratic Governance. These are key Public Think Tanks who set the agenda on public discourse on governance and social protection issues in Ghana.

We will call on them and possibly collaborate to research on issues related to older persons 'rights for policy documents, advocacy materials, position papers and technical projects on ageing in Ghana. We will further call on these Think Tanks to consider critical issues on ageing in the area of health, pension's schemes, transport, and social protection floors in the series of presidential debates which feature eminent candidates from both the incumbent and opposition parties.

- Engage influential media houses to create awareness on the need for UN Convention on the rights of older people and to build public education for it.
- Engage the leadership of all the major political parties on the need to strongly consider the rights of older persons in their respective party manifestos and to work assiduously in realising them when elected into the high office of the land

Q4 Confirmation of the activities of the organization at the national, regional or international level:
